Quiescence is certainly a special occasion kind of place, where reservations are a must and rambunctious kids are a no-no. Don't worry—you can still enjoy the bounty of the farm with a meal at the Morning Glory Café; or a fantastic picnic lunch from the Farm Kitchen.

FARM-TO-TABLE, ARIZONA-STYLE

Tucked away in an almost hidden corner of the Farm, you'll find one of the nation's most celebrated restaurants. Chef Dustin Christofolo launched the farm-to-table restaurant Quiescence before farm-to-table before that was even a thing. Housed in the property's original farmhouse, Chef Dustin determines each element planted in the garden to perfect his refined, rustic menus that change with each harvest. The flavors of the Arizona terroir shine through each dish with the unique layering of flavors and exceptional uses of the local ingredients. With the delicious vegetables, herbs and edible flowers from our on-site garden, over 60 fruit trees, eggs from our chicken coop, fresh breads from our Le Panyol oven, and meats and cheeses from other local farmers and purveyors, guests experience the freshest ingredients possible when dining at Quiescence.
